

Predicted IGCSE, AS, and A-Level Grades for Provisional Admission

Qatar University will consider English system applicants who are currently in their final year of study and whose final and official IGCSE, AS, and A-Level results will not be available by the application deadline to apply for Provisional Admission based on their predicted grades. A complete list of QU's minimum admission requirements for English system applicants may be found at:
http://www.qu.edu.qa/students/admission/undergraduate/first_year_applicants.php

It is imperative that the predicted grades be as accurate as possible. Applicants receiving Provisional Admission based on predicted grades will need to submit their final and official results in order to complete their formal admission to QU. Applicants with official grades that differ significantly from their predicted grades may be required to transfer to a different college or, in the event that they fail to satisfy QU's minimum admission requirements, will have their admission to QU rescinded.
