

An introduction to medical ethics (AGI-03-P78)

(Sun 14 Feb 6-8pm via WebEx)

Aim: To enhance understanding of the medical ethics and their application in healthcare delivery

Target Audience: All healthcare practitioners

Learning objectives:

1. Differentiate between values, morals and ethics
2. Outline the universal principles of biomedical ethics
3. Understand the legal and ethical status of consent
4. Understand the role and meaning (legal, religious) of capacity; and the processes involved in capacity assessment and enhancement.
5. Outline the basic principles of patient confidentiality and explore how it relates to respect for personal autonomy

Speakers:

- Mr Shahriar Siddiq. Faculty, Health Sciences. College of North Atlantic-Qatar
- Dr. Suhad Daher-Nashif, Assistant professor Behavioral and social sciences College of Medicine, QU Health. Qatar University
- Dr Tanya Kane. Assistant Professor of Behavioral Sciences, College of Medicine, QU Health, Qatar University.

Event Schedule
Speaker	Topic and schedule
Mr Shahriar Siddiq 6:05-6:30pm	Differentiate between values, morals and ethics Outline the universal principles of biomedical ethics
Dr Suhad Daher-Nashif 6:30-7:10pm	Understand the legal and ethical status of consent Understand the role and meaning (legal, religious) of capacity; and the processes involved in capacity assessment and enhancement.
Dr Tanya Kane 7:10-7:45pm	Outline the basic principles of patient confidentiality and explore how it relates to respect for personal autonomy
7:45-8:00pm	Q&As and interactive case studies

The scientific planning committee has reviewed all disclosed financial relationships of speakers, moderators, facilitators and/or authors in advance of this CPD activity and has implemented procedures to manage any potential or real conflicts of interest.

 This activity is an Accredited group learning activity (Category 1) as defined by the Ministry of Public Health Department of Health Professions—Accreditation Section (DHP—AS) and is approved for a maximum number of 2 Hours.

 CPD-HP (QU—Health) is accredited by Ministry of Public Health Department of Health Professions—Accreditation Section (DHP—AS) as a provider of continuing professional development.*

Speakers

Mr Shahriar Siddiq is an instructor on the pharmacy technician program at College of North Atlantic Qatar. Obtained Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery (MBBS), Graduate diploma in Nuclear medicine and diploma in pharmacy technician. Awarded fellowship of International Atomic Energy Agency in Nuclear Medicine from London Health Science Center in Canada. More than 15 years of experience in clinical practice and research in health care field. 20 years of teaching experience in Bangladesh and Canada. This includes teaching graduate students of Nuclear Medicine, Radiology and Radiotherapy and pharmacy technician students. Offered about 15 different CPD courses to Qatar health care professionals and developed 8 courses. Authored a pharmaceutical math manual and published original articles in different journals.

Dr. Suhad Daher-Nashif is an assistant professor of behavioral and social sciences in the College of Medicine at Qatar University. Her academic and professional backgrounds involve medical and social disciplines. She holds MSc. in occupational therapy and PhD in sociology and anthropology, with major in anthropology of medicine and culture. Her main research work analyze the intersectionality between science, society and bureaucracy within the modern health systems in the MENA region. She takes forensic medicine and mental health systems as her main fields of research. Her most recent publications: Psychosocial aspects of female breast cancer in the Middle East and North Africa (2020); Women's Health and Well-Being in the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals: A Narrative Review of Achievements and Gaps in the Gulf States (2020).

Dr Tanya Kane is an Assistant Professor of Behavioral Science in the College of Medicine at the University of Qatar. She holds a PhD in Anthropology from the University of Edinburgh. Her research interests include globalization of higher education, knowledge-based economies, medicine and gender, especially in relation to the countries of the Arabian Peninsula. Tanya's current research project is examining male infertility in the Gulf. Her previous work has focused on dementia, cultures of expertise, language in transnational medical education, the intersection of religious and scientific knowledge, and the universality of medicine.

